Dear Professor Carol Adams,

RE: ICAS Consultation on SDGs

The Institute for Sustainable Futures would like to acknowledge the significance and timeliness of the SDG disclosure framework that has been proposed. As an academic research institute that supports public, private and not-for-profit organisations across Australia and globally to navigate the complexities of sustainable development, we see tremendous value in formalising a disclosure framework for all 17 of the SDGs. We see the proposed disclosure framework as a watershed moment for Australian organisations that will ultimately improve organisational performance and deliver better outcomes for people and planet. The framework will help organisations to identify risks, challenges and opportunities, and develop strategies that will accelerate our trajectory towards meeting the SDGs by 2030.

The Institute for Sustainable Futures looks forward to working with all organisations across Australia as they embark on the process of reporting and disclosing their progress towards meeting the SDGs.

Kind regards
